

The Mischievous Easter Bunny

The Easter Bunny came last night,
With fluffy tail and ears upright.
He tiptoed softly, snuck around,
Then tripped and tumbled to the ground!

His basket flew up in the air,
With jelly beans just everywhere!
He scrambled fast, oh, what a sight!
To set the chocolate eggs just right.

He stuck one egg inside a shoe,
Another in some sticky glue.
A chick-shaped Peep fell in my hat,
I think he even pranked the cat!

Then off he ran at lightning speed,
He must've had too much to eat!
So if your Easter seems bizarre,
Blame that bunny, wherever you are!
